Chapter III

Comparison between Queen and English-Vinglish

The movies Queen and English-Vinglish are examples of the changing role of women who does not need a male to rescue her from danger or to console her in tears.

Contextualizing Ayah's Abduction: Patterns of Violence against Women in Sidhwa's Cracking India

The 1947 Partition of British India into two independent nations (India and Pakistan) was accompanied by communal violence unspeakable in its brutality and ferocity. One of the profound ironies of the period is that while a rhetoric and ideology of non-violence prevailed in the political push for freedom from colonial rule, a bloodbath accompanied the actual attainment of this goal. In the months immediately preceding and following the creation of "free" nation

→ The cross bridge detaches when a new ATP binds with the myosin

→ Locking of the myosin head occurs when ATP, ADP + P and then cross bridge can form.

→ The end result is a shortening of the sarcomere

- The distance between the Z discs shortens.
- The H zone disappears
- The dark A band increases because the actin & the myosin overlap more.

Notes

Size by size relationship the region... and each filament is attached to myosin... is achieved by a large number... of globular molecules of a protein... called thin or head Actin and end... myosin so that the contractile mechanism of the sarcomere is maintained.

Actin

Actin is made up of different proteins and present in the sarcomere. Actin comes in 2 forms - polymer Actin

Contributed by Martin Fitzpatrick, University of Birmingham, United Kingdom

Fixation of samples in Carnoy's fluid

- In a fume hood pour 60ml of ethanol into a suitable container
- Add 30ml chloroform
- Add 10ml glacial acetic acid to give a total volume of 100ml
- Place tissue into fixative for 1-3 hours
- Process fixed tissues immediately or transfer to 80% alcohol for storage

- ☐ Income from the agricultural sector contributed Rs. 6256 crore in 1993-94 (26.23% of the state income); declined to Rs. 5165 crore (13%) in 2003-04;
- ☐ The increase in agricultural wages also has negatively affected the profitability of major crops;
- ☐ The expectation of higher incomes from non agricultural work and consequent higher investments in human capital discourage people from investment in agriculture;
- ☐ The state accounts for 45% of the plantation crops in the country;
- ☐ Nearly 20% of the population depends on plantation crops for their livelihood;

CURRENT PROBLEMS IN AGRICULTURE :

- ☐ 1. DECLINE IN PROFITABILITY : The material and labour costs account for more than 80% of the cost of cultivation; rapid rise in fertilizer prices, the decline in farm prices, no increase in farm productivity, adversely affected the profitability;
- ☐ the prices paid by farmers for inputs increased at the annual rate of 12.09% while the prices received increased at a much lower rate, 5.99% ; (1990-2002)

INDUSTRIAL BACKWARDNESS

- ❖ Kerala in spite of its achievements in social sectors like health and education , percapita domestic product and percapita manufacturing value added in Kerala are substantially lower than that of India ;
- ❖ in 1996, percapita domestic product at constant prices was $ 314 for Kerala compared to $ 380 for India ; Percapita manufacturing value added was $ 46 for Kerala compared to $ 75 for India ;
- ❖ Industrialisation in Kerala is certainly far from being commensurate with the socio economic achievements for which the state is justly famous;
- ❖ According to some, Kerala's industrial backwardness is associated with the high incidence of labour unrest and the active role of trade union movement in the state ;
- ❖ Another line of argument is that Kerala's industrial slow down is due to its weak industrial structure , which offers very little potential for inter - industry inter linkages;
