A Report

Increase in cases of Breast cancer in Kerala is indeed a matter of concern. Ten years ago, cervical cancer was on the top of the chart of cancers among women. Now breast cancer has overtaken. Among cancers in women, about 30-35 per cent is accounted by breast cancer. 'There is definitely an increase in breast cancer. Every third women who comes to oncology OP has breast cancer. Though the incidence of breast cancer is going up, the mortality rates are not high. Breast cancer is striking women in their thirties now. Though no particular reason can be pinpointed for the increase in breast cancer use of oral contraceptives, hormones being used to postpone menstrual periods, high fat diet and lack of exercise can be taken as reasons. Early detection is needed for effective treatment but even now majority of patients come for treatment in stage 3 and stage 4 in the state. Many studies have shown that most Adjuvant (treatment in early stage) therapies are important in the fight against breast cancer as they decrease recurrence by one third. Leading oncologists are hoping to achieve higher success rates in treatment of the dreaded disease by individualizing the treatment for patients thereby reducing recurrence.

About Cochin Cancer Society (C.C.S)

Cochin Cancer Society (C.C.S) is a charitable society registered under the Travancore-Cochin Library, Scientific and Charitable Societies registration Act, incorporated in the year 2004 when a few like-minded people joined hands to help poor patients. The main architects of the society are Dr. V.P.Gangandharan and late Dr. Cherian Jacob. The specialty of the society is that its members are either affected by cancer, have close relatives affected by cancer and doctors who look after cancer patients. Some of the prime objectives of CCS are to support poorer section of society impacted by cancer, to educate public about cancer and conduct camps for early detection among women. Welcare Hospital is the partnering hospital of CCS where needy patients are treated at subsided rates and C.C.S bears the balance treatment cost. This has been of great help to the families of the affected patients. C.C.S also provides free home stay facility, food and transport support to needy patients.

It is in this context, the intuition advanced the idea of conducting a mammogram test for the women in and around Kumminiparamba, the village adopted by the college. 235 women from ward 6, 7 and 8 of Pallikkal Panchayath have undergone diagnostic test. 105 students involved in this extensions work which includes door to door campaign and camp management.
