

IT LITERACY PROGRAMME

Now a day the IT literacy is very basic requirements to be a good citizen. Today we truly live in a global village, but it is a village with elite information 'haves' and many information 'have-nots.' With the new technologies available to us we have an opportunity to change the world. But sometimes the rural people is lagging behind even in basic IT knowledge.

IT-Club EMEA College has conducted an IT literacy programme to the students of AWH School for Handicapped, Kodakkad, Chelari on 24-08-2016. Students from standards 4 to 8 have participated in the program. Each IT-club member is engaged with one child and assisted the child to operate the computer. The children enjoyed the program very well and learned how to use different coloring and painting tools. The programme was inaugurated by Prof. Riyad.AM, Head, Department of Computer Science. The IT Club members delivered the classes.
