Introduction:

The self-defence program was initiated in response to the growing concerns about the safety of female students in various settings, including schools and communities.

The primary objectives of the program were to empower girl students with self-defence techniques, raise awareness about personal safety, and build self-confidence.

Program Implementation:

The program was conducted as a one-day program on 23rd February 2023.

The curriculum covered a range of topics, including basic self-defence techniques, situational awareness, verbal de-escalation, and self-confidence building exercises.

Certified self-defence instructors from CISF coming under Calicut international airport conducted the training sessions.

Program Activities:

- Self-Defence Techniques: Participants learned practical self-defence moves, such as blocking, striking, and escaping holds.
- Situational Awareness: Girls were taught to recognize potentially dangerous situations and how to avoid them.
- Empowerment Exercises: Activities to boost self-esteem and confidence were integrated into the program.

Participation and Feedback:

- Enrolment: Over 140 female students participated in the program.
- Feedback was taken to assess the program's effectiveness and gather participant input.

2. Outcomes and Impact:

- Increased Confidence: Participants reported a significant boost in self-confidence and personal empowerment.
- Improved Awareness: Girls became more aware of their surroundings and better equipped to assess potential threats.
- Skill Acquisition: The majority of participants acquired practical self-defence skills.
- Reduced Fear: Many girls expressed a decrease in their fear of personal safety issues.

Conclusion: “Survivalism” the self-defence program for girl students was a valuable initiative designed to empower our college girls with the skills and confidence needed to protect themselves. By addressing physical and mental aspects of self-defence, the program aims to create safer and more confident individuals who can navigate a variety of situations.

The Women's Cell of EMEA College initiated a Women Protection and Empowerment Program with the objective of fostering a safe and empowering environment for women within the college community. This report presents an overview of the program, its implementation, and the impact it has had on women's well-being and empowerment.

Women protection is of paramount importance in ensuring the well-being, dignity, and empowerment of women in every society. It is a fundamental human right and a cornerstone for achieving gender equality. The significance of women protection can be understood in several key aspects:

1. Human Rights: Every woman has the right to live free from violence, discrimination, and harassment. Protecting women is not only a legal obligation but a moral imperative to uphold their basic human rights.
2. Dignity and Respect: Ensuring the protection of women contributes to preserving their dignity and ensuring that they are treated with respect and equality in all aspects of life, including at home, in the workplace, and in public spaces.
3. Empowerment: Women protection is intrinsically linked to women's empowerment. When women feel safe and secure, they are more likely to actively participate in social, economic, and political activities, contributing to the overall development of communities and societies.
4. Health and Well-being: Violence and abuse can have severe physical and mental health consequences for women. By ensuring their protection, we promote a healthier society and reduce the burden on healthcare systems.
5. Economic Contribution: Protected women are more likely to pursue education, employment, and entrepreneurship opportunities, leading to increased economic productivity and growth.

6. Social Stability: Communities with protected women are more likely to experience social stability and harmony. When women are safe, families thrive, and communities become more cohesive.
7. Educational Opportunities: Women protection is essential for ensuring that girls and women have equal access to education. This, in turn, contributes to breaking the cycle of poverty and promoting social progress.
8. Role Modeling: A safe environment for women serves as a positive example for future generations. It helps challenge and redefine traditional gender roles, fostering a culture of equality and respect.

Program Objectives:

- Enhance awareness: Increase awareness among students, faculty, and staff about women's rights, safety measures, and available support services.
- Foster a safe environment: Implement measures to ensure the safety and security of women on campus.
- Empowerment initiatives: Develop and implement programs to empower women academically, socially, and personally.
- Encourage reporting: Establish a confidential reporting system to encourage the reporting of incidents and provide necessary support.

[Redacted]

The Women Protection and Empowerment Program initiated by the Women's Cell of EMEA College has made significant strides in creating a safer and more empowering environment for women on campus. Around 200 students participated in this program and made the program a great success. In summary, women protection is not just a women's issue but a societal imperative. It is a prerequisite for achieving sustainable development, fostering gender equality, and building a world where every woman can live free from fear and discrimination. Efforts to protect women should be comprehensive, addressing both legal frameworks and societal attitudes, and should involve collaboration at all levels of society. Continued commitment and collaboration will be essential in sustaining and expanding the impact of such programs in the college community.
